Hi! I'm Collin, the owner of Hip2Save, mom of three, and proud wife to a Marine veteran. I began blogging in the summer of 2008 as a way to help myself, my family, and my friends save money. Little did I know my hobby would turn into a full-time endeavor and that Hip2Save would become the nationally recognized website that it is today. It's incredible to be able to employ so many amazing individuals from all around the country and from different walks of life!
